Library Resources Review for New Course:
Psychology Internship: Psychology 195
Submitted by Patty Wade, Librarian Subject Selector for Psychology
January 7, 2013

There is nothing to indicate a need for library support for this course. The students must write several papers for the course including an Internship Evaluation paper, a Worksite Project Paper, Resume and Summary Paper. None of these requires library research. The library could assist with the resume writing with its career book collection. We have a number of resume writing guides as well as books specifically focused on psychology careers such as:

Reference librarians can also help students find research information that they may need in the course of their work at the job site.

Overall, the library is able to support the needs of this course.