Did You Know?

The winter 2015 issue of MARY: A Journal of New Writing, the online magazine run by M.F.A. in Creative Writing students, is out. This issue includes work by Cristina García, Sarah

Jan Term Speaker Series Begins Jan. 13

This year's Jan Term Speaker Series—free and open to the public—begins on Jan. 13 with a discussion about life by Professors Emily Hause and Grete Stenersen, who teach the Death and Dying course. The remaining speakers are minister and social justice activist Rev. Osagyefo Uhuru Sekou on Jan. 19, and Roland Merullo, author of the first year common reading, Breakfast with Buddha, on Jan. 26.

Mapping the Future

The Christian Brothers brought to the 19th-century West Coast and Saint Mary's a rich educational tradition reaching back to 17th-century France, said Brother Charles Hilken, "and that's exactly what we are doing today." Together, our community of faculty, trustees, Christian Brothers, alumni, staff, and students has developed key goals through the strategic planning process introduced by President Jim Donahue to guide the College for the next five years.

Fostering Faculty Research

Manguso, and Meg Alison, whose novel won the 2014 Philip K. Dick Award. Since 2002, MARY has published contemporary poetry and prose from a diverse group of talented emerging and established writers. Congratulations to Managing Editor Tiffany Jimenez, M.F.A. Fiction '16 and the rest of the graduate student staff.

"There are a lot of dream research projects that faculty have in their minds—and now Saint Mary's has really given us the opportunity to do them," said Professor Sawako Suzuki about new internal faculty research grants supporting scholarly work on microfinance to Puritanism. SMC winners include Suzuki, Monica Fitzgerald, Makiko Imamura, Tina Zhang, and Yung-Jae Lee.

Accidental Artist

Lisa Congdon '90 never meant to be a fine artist, illustrator, or even an author. But fate had different plans for this history major and former elementary school teacher. Congdon credits Saint Mary's and especially Seminar with her love for reading and writing.

Lasallian Reflections

Go Gaels

Tough Defense, Hot Shooting Leads Gaels Past USD

Shutdown defense and hot shooting Saturday kept the Saint Mary's College men's basketball team unbeaten in West Coast Conference play and led it to its seventh straight win with a 79-46 victory over San Diego at McKeon Pavilion.
