Explore the Pope's Encyclical

The campus welcomes several experts Wednesday who will discuss the pope's encyclical at two free events. The Most Reverend Bishop Michael Barber of the Oakland Diocese will speak in the Chapel, 3:30-5:30 p.m., followed by a Mass. Later, panelists George Griener, S.J., Sr. Damien Savino, F.S.E., Ph.D., and Anthony Strawa, Ph.D. will participate in "The Katie Springer Forum: Science and Religion as Partners in Pope Francis' Call to Action," at 7:30 p.m. in the Soda Center.

SMC's Year in the News

National and regional news mentions about Saint Mary's—7,012 media hits—were at their second highest since the Gaels made it to the Sweet 16 in 2009-10 (Matthew Dellavedova in the NBA finals didn't hurt). More than a dozen national news outlets quoted or reported on the work of SMC faculty members over the past year.

SEBA Partners with Armanino at Conference

SEBA recently partnered with accounting and business consulting firm Armanino to offer professional development workshops at its annual client conference. Faculty members Jose Plehn-Dujowich, Wenting Pan, and Kirk Knapp spoke, and SMC Regent Rand Morimoto gave a keynote presentation on cyber security.

Did You Know?

As you may have noticed, the Library staff was busy over the summer. Responding to requests for more and different study space, staff rearranged desktop computers and other rooms, adding 80 seats and tables. And cloud printing, introduced last spring, is still going strong.

Do you have a little-known tidbit or story about Saint Mary's? Send it to Campus News.
