Jennifer Heung

This project aims to establish an assessment process located in the core courses of the program to determine the degree of curricular alignment between learning outcomes and the content and pedagogy of our lower division introduction class and our capstone upper division class. A common assignment will be designed to assess these classes and used to better identify the knowledge, skills and values located in our learning goals.