ALAN AND KAREN JABBOUR
Life-Changing Encounters with Appalachian Culture

Jan. 20 | 7 p.m.
Moraga Room, Soda Center

In this immersive musical and photographic presentation, Alan Jabbour and Karen Singer Jabbour use performance and discussion to tell about their life- and career-changing experiences exploring Appalachian traditions. Setting out in the 1960s to document fiddling as a cultural tradition, Alan learned the style himself and collected songs that are now played around the world. The couple also documented other customs and rituals distinctive to the region. Their musical and photographic presentation will revisit and reflect on what they learned.
