

Hi everyone,

Here is a quick update about what we accomplished at today's CCIC/CCC meeting.

1. We went through the catalog language drafted by Kara and Bob (many thanks to them) and made comments, especially focusing on precision about the requirements. Kara has promised to incorporate these comments into a new draft that we will receive tomorrow (Friday). The time frame is tight for incorporating this language into the catalog, so I will ask all of you to take a look at it over the weekend and get us final comments by Monday. It is only a couple of pages long, so it should not be too much of a burden.
2. We then went through the "Signature Programs" language drafted by Jim and Zach, again making comments. Bob reported that College Communications is likely to use this language as the basis of the public website for the core, so please send any further comments that occur to you. The updated language is attached (clean on p. 1, showing the revision process on p. 2).

I hope that those of you who are sick feel better soon. Have a great weekend!

Best,

Zach Flanagin
