What Makes Saint Mary's College Students Unique?

Saint Mary's College liberal arts tradition focuses on student-centered, discussion-based education with an emphasis on shared inquiry. As a result students receive a broad education that provides a durable foundation for critical and independent thinking as well as strong communication.

As knowledge rapidly changes, the intellectual habits of integrative thinking, articulate expression, and ethical decision-making that our students learn, makes them uniquely prepared to face complex challenges of today's workplace.
